Hello,

I support Tri-Cities CARES effort to prevent the wind farm being built on the Horse Heaven Hills. That land has too many other more valuable uses than ruining it with wind turbines that we don't need here in Eastern Washington. Hydro power (and nuclear) are much better solutions for this area. I want to confirm my support for Tri-Cities CARES effort in the intervention of this project.

Thanks,

Hello. Writing to you as a long time TC resident expressing my support for the movement to save the Horse Heaven Hills view. Growing up in the area, I know first hand that that this view is one of the best in the area and I'd like to express my displeasure with the plan to install the turbines. West side sentiment should take a backseat to the residents/tax payers that actually reside in the neighborhood. My wife and I own a primary residence and three rental Income properties in this region and believe there to be huge property value implications to this plan.

Director Bumpus,

Please stop the Horse Heaven Hills Wind Project. I truly don't want to look at windmills along the Horse Heaven Hills. This project will truly destroy the Mid-Columbia basin landscape.

Windmills have shown they are an unreliable energy source. No matter how many windmills are installed, a base power source will still be required when the wind is not blowing unless the plan is for brown-outs during the coldest days in winter and the hottest days in summer.

The windmill blades seem to be a problem as well. They are good at killing birds and at this time, there is no way to repair or recycle the blades. I have seen piles of blades near wind farm projects in Washington. I believe the damaged or wore out blades end up in a landfill. So much for being a clean source of power. I am sure, lots of chemicals are used to produce these blades.

Stop the Horse Heaven Hills Wind Project.

Director Bumpus: Please know I fully and totally support Tri-Cities CARES efforts in representing me as a resident of the Tri-Cities region.

With regards to the Horse Heaven Wind Project adjudication process, I firmly believe Tri-Cities CARES has been doing an outstanding and accurate job of presenting the facts and truth while representing the citizens of the Tri-Cities area.

Therefore, I want to confirm my support for their intervention in the process.

I do not enjoy writing what I'm going to say hereinafter, but I can't be silent on this matter. I find it sad and infuriating that a few "outsiders" are arrogant enough to think they can work to shove (force) a project like the HHH windfarm down our throats when the majority of the Tri-Cities citizens do NOT want this expensive, resource wasteful, eye sore spoiling the beauty of where we live, and devaluing the value of some people's largest asset - their homes - which is a provable fact!

Plus, if the "pro" HHH windfarm people could just get intellectually honest, and accept the facts for what they are, they would see that this project is not feasible, and the lack of value/benefits don't merit any further consideration of it! Scout Energy is the main one who benefits from this at the expense of the entire public.

We need energy, and lots of it, if we want to be carbon free (which the experts doubt we can fully achieve); however, windfarms are NOT the answer. The correct answers exist but must be implemented to get us where we need to be.

I hope you and the EFSEC see and accept the truth that windfarms aren't the path we should be on. The EFSEC and Mr. Inslee do not have the right to ruin our lives and waste our money -yes, our money – on this and other windfarm projects!!

Dear EFSEC Director Sonia Bumpus:

6/3/23

Tri-Cities CARES has been doing a great job of representing local communities in the Horse Heaven Wind Project adjudication process. I confirm my support for Tri-Cities CARES' intervention in the process.

Please enter on the EFSEC public record that I support Tri-Cities CARES efforts in representing me as a resident of the Tri-cities region and expect EFSEC to treat Tri-Cities CARES as representing me.

I will, of course be following these proceedings and putting in my 2 cents on the Horse Heaven Wind & Solar fiasco being forced on Tri-Cities inhabitants that do not want the project because of the environmental, scenic, geological, & property value damage it will do to the area as well as the damage it will do to our electrical grid system as the power is not needed and power balancing will have to be done to assure the grid stays operational. Further, the project is not cost effective without huge taxpayer subsidies (i.e., a mis-use of taxpayer funds). And the use of child labor by the CCP to extract the rare earths (i.e., hazardous materials) used in the wind & solar materials & support materials as well as the decontamination and decommissioning aspect & assured funding of such is not addressed. And the contamination & preservation of good farm land is not addressed along with the lack of access to water for the project. These issues make the H3 Wind/Solar "project" inappropriate for the Tri-Cities region.

Thank you for adding my name to the list that Tri-Cities Cares represents.

Dear Ms. Bumpus,

Tri-Cities Cares group definitely represents myself and my neighbors in my community.

I live in the Tri-City area (Kennewick) and I cannot think of anyone in my circle of influence that supports the wind farm. It is a source of conversation most of the time. I and my neighbors are grateful TCC can represent the local community so well. Many community neighbors have joined meetings, requested information and initiated calls with going directly to the TCC group.

I get pulled into the conversation of status, when there is a meeting and just so many people grateful that TCC has formed to represent the local majority.

Personally, out of my circle of influence, after living in Seattle for 43 years with a wide circle of influence based on my corporate employment and my neighborhoods I lived in I am still in contact with them. They ask me what I have been doing since I moved here 3 years ago. I explain how I educated myself on the promotion of green energy. I have had only one person not persuaded to sign a petition or believe there is another side of the story. My circle of friends have sided with the TCC as an advocate for the local community to represent the ideals of conservation and preservation of the Horse Heaven Hills.

After living in Seattle for so long I returned to where I was born. This past memorial day I visited 3 generations in the cemetery. My great grandfather was mayor 3 times in Pasco. He was the oldest mayor in the United States. He represented Pasco in Paris in 1935. We had the first house built in Pasco, the first bathtub, the first phone.

What does this mean? It means I'm committed to this community and its development, sustainability and its unique qualities and historic values that need to be supported. My neighbors, my circle of influence are in strong agreement that TCC is in alignment with their opinion and most grateful TCC represents them.

Respectfully,
Gayle Graves

Good afternoon,

It has come to my attention that you are needing "proof" with regards to the fantastic job that Tri-Cities CARES organization has been providing to our community. On my behalf, they are doing their best to keep that wind farm out of my back yard.

The Horse Heaven Wind Project is the worst possible thing that could happen to our hills. The ferruginous hawks native to our area need that land protected.

Tri-Cities CARES speaks for and does their best representing me in the adjudication process that's been ongoing. I fully support them.

Thank you.

I want to go on record as endorsing Tri-Cities CARES as an intervenor in the adjudication process of the Horse Heaven Wind project. They have done an outstanding job of educating local residents on the impacts of this project more broadly than the issues that Yakama Nation and Benton County are focusing on. Restricting their participation does a great disservice to the residents of the region.

Dear EFSEC Director, Sonia Bumpus

Thank you for your leadership in directing a very controversial and critical issue that will determine the future of a very important area of Washington State and the quality of life for many local residents of the Tri-Cities.

As a former Planning, Building and Economic Development official of a large jurisdiction, I understand the difficulties you are facing in directing the outcome of the Horse Heaven Hills project. Please allow as much community input as possible to frame the many complex concerns this project creates. The citizens of our Tri-Cities area need to be heard completely and the Tri-Cities CARES group (made up of people involved in this project from the beginning) is providing an essential forum for your better understanding of the critical risks we are facing, and needs to be part of the ongoing discussion.

Meanwhile, the vital science behind Green Energy is changing rapidly, so great care needs to be observed as decisions are made that will greatly impact the details of our lives in this area. More study and more information from more people is what our Democracy is all about in creating the best outcomes.

Thank you again for your time and work,

I find it INSULTING Gov. Inslee vetoed the representation of those impacted by so-called “green projects” in the permitting processes and find such methodologies UNACCEPTABLE! Tri-Cities CARES represents the local population, not those living on the other side of the mountains, especially those living using taxpayer funds. We live under what is supposed to be a REPRESENTATIVE form of government, NOT a form in which we are told what is acceptable. No matter the outcome!

My husband asked me to express my support of Tri-Cities C.A.R.E.S. to you. Tri-Cities C.A.R.E.S. has been doing an excellent job representing my concerns and those of my friends who dislike what the Horse Heaven Wind Project is trying to do. I totally support their intervention in the Project's adjudication process. Please continue to Hear our concerns.

Very Truly Yours,
Phyl Strickler

RE: Tri-Cities CARES (TCC)

We support the work of Tri-Cities CARES (TCC) for us Tri-Cities citizens and residents in the Horse Heaven Wind Project. We encourage their continued work as adjudicators in this project.

We oppose the expensive, inefficient, wind turbines that are as tall as the Space Needle. If any wind turbines are installed, they should be the much smaller, less expensive, and quieter tulip-shaped wind machines.

Sincerely,

William and Laura Wilson
